Città di Muravera

Italia – Sardegna dal 2 al 7 settembre 2024

REGULATION

The event takes its name from the terracotta vase into which the companies coming from the four selected nations, during the final day, will pour a bag of their land as a symbol of the contamination and cultural enrichment that in many cases the invasions have brought.

It will host performances by the four International Theater companies from the selected nations.

The shows will take place outdoors, in the city of Muravera in Sardinia.

Each selected company, the afternoon before or after its show, will have to hold a creative meeting/workshop for participants on acting techniques and how the company prepares for the show, as well as describing the activity it carries out in its country of origin. . All within about two hours.

SELECTION

The selection of participating companies will take place at the sole discretion of the Festival Commission.

The company must send the attached form no later than June 30, 2024 with what is requested in it.

The theme of the show must ideally retrace the invasions that transform into a moment of cultural exchange and meeting and how the ideological and poetic trespassing inextricably intertwines and enriches the traditions and cultures of invaders and invaders.

Preferably puppetry or theatre/dance shows where the use of language is predominantly emotional and corporeal rather than verbal will be admitted to the selection. The proposal must take into account that the show will be outdoors.

The show must have a duration of between 50 and 70 minutes.

The company must be independent in the costumes, furniture and special props necessary for its show. The organization can only make common tents, furniture and accessories available.

Scene setup time is limited to 90 minutes.

Each Company is responsible for obtaining written authorization from its National Society of Authors or Responsible Agent to produce the work chosen for the Festival.

With the application for participation, each company authorizes the organizer without requesting any rights, to perform, transmit, live or deferred, the sound and images of all or part of the show presented.

Each selected company must provide the Organizing Committee, within the deadlines indicated, with the information and documents requested by the various questionnaires and the advertising material, under penalty of forfeiture.

from participation in the Festival.

The selected company:

- he will have to bring a small bag of earth from his country which will be left in the square in front of a terracotta vase symbol of the festival;
- must ensure his/her stay at the festival site from the date of his/her arrival until 7/9 and undertakes to participate in the "RITE OF INVASION AND WELCOME" event on 7 September;
- the dates reserved for the performance of the selected companies will be agreed and in any case between 2 and 6 September;
- the following afternoon or the day before the performance the company undertakes to hold the workshop as specified above;
- the date of the show will be indicated by the organizer at the time of communication of the selection.
